Policy

1. The purpose of this policy and procedure is to outline AIST's approach to ensuring it markets and advertises its courses ethically and accurately, in compliance with Standards 4 and 5 of the RTO Standards 2015, as well as the ESOS Act National Code of 2018, Standard 1
2. Australian Institute of Science and Technology (AIST) ensures the information provided to students about its services, courses, units and qualifications delivered is accurate and factual, regardless of whether the information is provided by the RTO, its brokers, online directories, agents or other third parties. All information clearly distinguishes between non-recognised training and nationally recognised training.
3. Australian Institute of Science and Technology (AIST) marketing information will enable informed choice for students by ensuring the information is detailed, accurate and complies with the requirements of the Standards.
4. By complying with the Standards, Australian Institute of Science and Technology (AIST) ensures consumer protection laws are adhered to.
5. Australian Institute of Science and Technology (AIST) advertising is factual and ethical and does not misrepresent Australian Institute of Science and Technology (AIST) training and assessment, products and other services.
6. All marketing information for nationally recognised training:
 - Identifies Australian Institute of Science and Technology (AIST) with its National RTO Code, as well as CRICOS code.
 - Includes the Nationally Recognised Training logo in accordance with its Conditions of Use outlined in Schedule 4 of the RTO Standards.
 - Includes the full name and code of the relevant Training Product whether it is a unit, module, qualification, skill set or accredited course so there is no confusion for students about the outcome.
 - Be consistent with its training and assessment strategies.
 - Include relevant cost information including all costs, any debts that may be occurred, or any loss of entitlement from the student undertaking the course (such as loss of entitlement for further government funded programs or student loan schemes).

7. Australian Institute of Science and Technology (AIST) will not:
 - Guarantee that a student will be issued with a qualification or statement of attainment.
 - Draw false or misleading comparisons with other education providers and courses.
 - Guarantee any employment or migration outcome as a result of training and/or assessment.
 - Guarantee that a student will be automatically accepted into another course.
 - Claim that a student will be eligible for any license or accreditation as a result of training and/or assessment unless it is a license outcome guaranteed by the issuer of the license or accreditation.
 - Give any other false or misleading information or advice in relation to itself, its course or outcomes associated with the course.
 - Knowingly recruit a student before they have completed six months of their principal course of study.
8. Prior to enrolment or the commencement of training Australian Institute of Science and Technology (AIST) provides to each individual current and accurate information that enables the individual to make informed decisions about undertaking training with Australian Institute of Science and Technology (AIST).
9. Course information provided prior to enrolment will provide the individual with detailed information about fees in line with Clause 5.3 of the Standards, as well as the National Code 2018 Standard 2.
10. Australian Institute of Science and Technology (AIST) will obtain prior written permission from any person or organisation used as a source of comment, testimonial or picture, for any marketing and/or other material and will always abide by the conditions of that permission.
